Instructions for the 12 inch Polar Lights Jupiter 2 Fusion Core Engine LED Sequencer

This unit is completely assembled and tested. Just plug in the enclosed 9 volt battery and throw the switch on. Then rotate the variable speed Adjustment potentiometer clock wise to increase speed and counter clock wise to decrease speed. The unit is designed to fit exactly between the centers of the Fusion Core windows. The LED's can be adjusted into place for perfect centering by bending the legs. Hot glue under the printed circuit works well for locking it in place.

In case you accidentally break one of the wires, the below picture will show you which wire connects to a particular component.
